Headline: Software maker CenterSys makes a breakthrough in compliance automation

New York, NY --- April 18, 2005 --- CenterSys Group continues to increase its presence in the financial sector with their newly released upgrade of CompSys v2 which provides total enterprise automation of Trade Compliance.

"CenterSys is boosting investor confidence by providing CompSys v2 which creates a robust Compliance and Risk framework in brokerages." said Pravin Prasad, CEO of CenterSys Group, Inc. "It automates almost all manual processes of the Compliance Departments in brokerages, on both Buy and Sell side, and prevents questionable trades from "falling through the cracks". The new version is a real breakthrough that will eliminate errors and oversight.

The efficiency of the system lies in its capabilities to draw attention to events in a proactive fashion, via emails, PDA and Cell Phone alerts, rather than Compliance Officers having to sift through reams of trade reports, disparate systems and spreadsheets identifying trades that may need corrective actions. It cuts down monitoring time and efforts drastically, while making the process essentially "bullet-proof". All this on a browser based framework that is highly secure yet very easy to use and manage. The CompSys Server is delivered as a "locked down hardware-software-application" solution which will not allow unauthorized access at any level.

The market has been waiting for comprehensive compliance automation solution in lieu of myriad of regulatory directives, and this robust tactical solution is bound to do well in the today's financial community.
